

250 PERSONS AT ELKS DINNER FOR G.E.R. E. E. JAMES

Approximately 250 Elks, including national and state officers, attended a dinner at the Gettysburg Lodge Home of York St. Tuesday evening when Attorney Earl E. James, Oklahoma City, grand exalted ruler of the Elks, paid an official visit to the South Central District.

In his address James said he has assumed the task of keeping the Elks organization in order and to make this year the greatest in Elksdom. Two prime objectives of the Grand Lodge will be the new program and expansion of Flag Day observances on June 14, and the building of state associations and their programs.

One of the major goals will be assistance to underprivileged children, the speaker adding "to be a real Elk you must be unselfish and do something for someone else." He urged lodges to get rid of "bad timber" and "free riders," in stressing the need for building on the Elks' true philosophy.

Praises State Elks
James urged lodges to adopt worthwhile programs in their own communities which usually serves as a means of increasing lodge membership. He lauded the Pennsylvania Elks Association for its top-ranking support to the Elks National Foundation which aids crippled and underprivileged children.

"I urge support to the traditions, heritage and principles which have made this country free and great. Elks are committed to see that we do not lose these principles by creeping paralysis developed by tyranny. Our order's policies includes those of fellowship, civic improvement, patriotism and aid to the underprivileged," the speaker said.

H. E. Pitzer Presides
James R. Riegle, exalted ruler of the Gettysburg Lodge, presided during the opening part of the pro-gram of "America," led by the gram. Following the singing of one Hanover Elks Chorus which sang throughout the evening, the invocation was given by Warren T. Dunn.

"Didn't Ask For Little Ballots"

Members of the election board in Germany Twp. offered a very logical explanation as to why their extra ballots bearing the referendum question on the Pennsylvania constitution were not used.

One member of the board was quoted by a court house official as saying: "No body asked for the little ballots."

Not one was used and the township's election report showed no votes in favor of or against the referendum question there.

Germany was the only township that failed to use the extra, midget-size ballots here Tuesday.

EXCHANGE CLUB STARTS PLANS FOR '54 SHOW

Encouraged by favorable response of contributing merchants and the large turnout of Adams County citizens to Gettysburg's first Builders' Show, the Exchange Club Tuesday evening mapped tentative plans for a "bigger and better" show in 1954.

Results of a poll taken among the 30 booth proprietors revealed 100 per cent enthusiasm for a similar project next year, an Exchange official reported during the club's weekly business session held at Banker's Restaurant.

In a public statement expressing his personal appreciation to those who made the 1953 Builders' Show a "huge success," Exchange President Robert P. Snyder foresaw the charity project growing in importance in the next few years.

"I've already been contacted by several Adams County businessmen who were impressed with our efforts last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday and who wish to erect display booths in the 1954 show," Snyder said.

Committeemen held that two major problems must be "ironed out" (Continued on Page 8)

SOCIETY HEARS FACTS ON ABE'S SPEECH HERE

The contradictory reports of eyewitnesses that can be used to prove a wide variety of "facts" concerning the preparation, delivery and reception of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address were reviewed by Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, head of the department of history at Gettysburg College and author of books on Pennsylvania history and Lincoln's visit to Gettysburg, in an address before the November meeting of the Adams County Historical Society Tuesday evening in the Court House.

Dr. Fortenbaugh quoted from Henry Eyster Jacobs' published account of the events here on November 19, 1863, as he witnessed them as a youth of 19 years, and from William E. Barton's "Lincoln at Gettysburg."

In the latter volume, the historian furnishes well-established "proof" for contradictory conclusions about many details of Lincoln's visit here.

Contradictory Proof
"It can be proven," the historians were told, "that Lincoln did not use a manuscript, that he used one for part of the address, that he pulled notes, an envelope, or the complete text from varying pockets of his suit and held it with one or both hands while he delivered the speech—which the crowd either received in silence, with light applause, or with an ovation."

There is disagreement, too, on the size of the horse Lincoln rode in the procession to the cemetery. Some eye-witnesses describe it as an unusually small horse, some say it was of average size, and some say an unusually large horse, the speaker pointed out.

Dr. Fortenbaugh displayed photographic copies of the five extant manuscripts of the Lincoln Address, including the first draft believed to have been made at the White House before the journey to Gettysburg, later revisions, and finally a manuscript Lincoln wrote for a Baltimore Fair the following spring. The various copies represent what Lincoln "intended to say, what he did say and what he wished he said."

Studies Compared
Comparative studies of the various Lincoln speech versions, including the newspaper reports of the speech, were displayed by Dr. Fortenbaugh. Homer N. Young, Seminary Ridge, told the society that the only sur- (Continued on Page 6)

COUNTIANS VOTE TO REVISE PA. CONSTITUTION

Although the voters of the state at large rejected the plan, Adams Countians on Tuesday voted in favor of a convention to write a new constitution for Pennsylvania. The vote here was 4,614 in favor of the proposal and 4,177 against.

No particular pattern could be discovered in the voting on the referendum with some Republican districts favoring and some opposing the constitution revision plan and Democratic districts also split on the issue.

The vote in the county on the four proposed amendments to the state constitution was in the negative excepting for proposal No. 2 which would allow the enactment of laws whereby qualified bed-ridden or physically incapacitated war veterans who are unable to go to the polls may vote in their election districts. The vote was 4,000 to 1,478.

Against Second Terms
The countians who voted on the first proposed amendment were about two-to-one against the plan to let county treasurers succeed themselves. The vote here was 1,735 in favor and 3,469 against.

Countians were about evenly divided on the question of taxing private forest reserves. There were 2,360 in favor and 2,601 against.

The fourth proposed amendment that concerned only Allegheny County courts but was voted on state-wide brought a vote in this county of 2,079 in favor and 2,095 against.

11,215 Countians Voted On Tuesday

Each of the 11,215 votes cast by Adams Countians in Tuesday's election cost almost 29 cents, according to the calculations of the county election board.

Cost of the election was $3,240.05, which would make the average vote cost 28 and 89/100ths cents. The 11,215 vote was about 62 per cent of the slightly more than 18,000 eligible to cast a ballot in the county.

Sheely Is Accorded Largest Plurality Given Any Democrat In Adams County In Decades

Rolling up the largest plurality given any Democratic candidate in Adams County in decades, Judge W. C. Sheely received a flattering complimentary vote here Tuesday but GOP victories in many other parts of the state carried his two Republican opponents into office as judges of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania.

Carrying 36 of the 42 voting districts in the county, Judge Sheely amassed a total of 7,280 votes as compared with 4,599 for J. Colvin Wright, his leading GOP opponent.

Judge Sheely left his Democratic running mates in Adams County far behind and the Republicans won the three major county offices at stake in Tuesday's voting.

Sheriff Race Close
Sheriff Dorsey J. Schultz, first sheriff ever re-elected to office in Adams County, won over the Democratic nominee, Gilbert L. Lupp, by a margin of only 182 votes. The unofficial totals are: Schultz, 5,513, and Lupp, 5,331.

In the two other major contests the Republican nominees won by more comfortable margins.

The GOP kept control of the offices of Clerk of the Courts and County Treasurer by electing Kenneth W. Johns and Jacob G. Appier, both of Gettysburg, to those offices.

State Figures Incomplete
Johns defeated Democrat Cyril "Cy" Weaver, of McSherrystown, for clerk of the courts by a vote of 6,059 to 4,677. Appier beat Clarence E. McClell, of Strasburg Twp., for county treasurer by a vote of 5,933 to 4,819.

Reports on the state voting for judges of the Superior Court were incomplete early this afternoon but the latest figures showed:

From 7,951 of 8,532 precincts (includes 921 precincts of 1,144 in Allegheny County and 1,415 of 1,417 in Philadelphia):

J. Colvin Wright 1,404,812.
Harold L. Ervin 1,356,482.
John Inghram Hook 1,205,950.
W. C. Sheely 1,208,228.

Democrats Led Early
Judge Sheely got more votes than any other candidate for the Superior Court in every district in Adams County excepting these six: Berks, East Berks, Lancaster, Liberty, Huntingdon No. 1 and Menallen. His largest vote was in the Third Ward of Gettysburg where he got 433 ballots — more than the number cast in that district for any other candidate.

County voters also elected two

Littlestown Council President Wins Three-Cornered Race For Burgess; Bish Is Tax Collector

The acting Burgess of Littlestown since last Saturday night, Roscoe W. Rittase, a Republican, was elected Burgess Tuesday in a three-way contest in which he nosed former Burgess, Charles R. Mehling, by 55 votes. Mr. Rittase, as borough council president, has been acting Burgess since Burgess Herbert Motter quit last Saturday.

Mehling waged a sticker campaign that topped the votes given Lawrence Henry Dooley, the Democratic nominee, and made Mehling high man in the race in the First Ward but when the Second Ward results were reported Rittase came out on top.

The vote in the First Ward was Rittase, 104; Dooley, 88, and Mehling, 120. In the Second Ward, the count was: Rittase, 205; Dooley, 117, and Mehling, 134; totals, Rittase, 309; Dooley, 205, and Mehling, 254.

Maitland And Fox Win
In the only other town-wide contest, Leroy W. Bish defeated P. Emory Weaver for tax collector, by a vote of 588 to 190. Bish was high in both wards with 240 in the First Ward and 348 in the Second to 75 and 115 for Weaver.

In voting for borough council in the First Ward, George Maitland and Lewis H. Fox, Republicans, topped E. A. Robert, Democrat. The totals were Fox, 191; Maitland, 182, and Robert, 139.

The Second Ward had only one councilman to elect and chose Frank E. Stoness, Republican, over Harold W. Sparver, by a vote of 253 to 216.

Elect Koonitz, Wareheim
Chester S. Byers was elected auditor; Wilbur E. Mackley, school director, and Loy Lindaman, Justice of the Peace, without opposition.

In the First Ward, Robert C. Koonitz, Democrat, defeated Robert J. Myers, Republican, 182 to 123 for assessor while in the Second Ward, Maurice C. Wareheim, Republican, defeated Ernest Sentz, Democrat, 250 to 206.

In the balloting for constable Gerald W. Daley was elected without opposition in the First Ward but in the Second Ward with no names on the ballot Daley and Edward Hawk got seven votes each and 10 other names were written in with one to three votes each.

For Constitution Revision
For judge of elections in the First Ward, Edgar T. Yealy got 288 votes in the Second Ward, John Wisler received 11 and John Legore, seven.

For inspector of elections in the First Ward, Edna A. Basehoar got 155 votes and Holman Sell, 141. In the Second Ward, John Dutera got a total of 346 votes.

There was a total of 799 votes cast in the borough, 328 of them in the First Ward and 471 in the Second.

On the referendum on the constitutional convention the First Ward voted 130 "for" and 114 against. The vote in the Second Ward was 198 yes and 174 no.

FINGERLINGS GO IN FARM PONDS

A number of farm ponds in the county were stocked or re-stocked with blue gills last week, with the new supply in some instances replenishing stock depleted by the hot, dry weather last summer.

The blue gill fingerlings were delivered through the Adams County Soil Conservation district office here by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

The fingerlings were delivered to the Barton Poth pond north of Fairfield; the pond of Harry Baumgardner, near Bendersville; Paul Pitzer, a mile south of Weiksville, and Thomas Bross, north of New Oxford.

Russell Stoops and Crowell Bucher had their ponds re-stocked as they lost most of their fish last summer during extreme hot weather.

The Soil Conservation Service had this tip for farm pond owners: "Farmers should give their ponds applications of 8-8-4 fertilizer or its equivalent before cold weather to assure the fish a food supply over the winter."

BLAST INJURES BOY
CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—A 12-year-old boy lost three fingers of his left hand and suffered serious burns and cuts on Monday when dynamite caps he was playing with in the backyard of his nearby Woodlyn home exploded. The father of Dennis Hoffman said the boy must have picked up the caps when the two were fishing at nearby Crum Creek.

"LOVE LETTER"

I send my heart to you my dear ... all wrapped in tender words ... that fly across the endless miles ... I ask you to remember me ... to things that I hold dear ... and when you read my words of love ... pretend that I am near ... then close your eyes and think about ... the happy times we've had ... remember me with joyful things ... and you will not be sad ... read what I put between the lines ... the things words cannot say ... and I am sure you will be thrilled ... with what those things convey ... then as you fold the pages of ... another true love letter ... remember each and every day ... I grow to love you better.

Say Coral Gables Race Track Sold

NEW YORK (AP)—The Nat Herzfeld Syndicate which purchased the Tropical Park Race Track several years ago for $1,100,000 sold the Coral Gables, Fla., track today for a reported 2½ million dollars.

Saul Silberman and Ralph de Chiaro, Baltimore contractors prominent in Ohio racing and pro football circles, signed the final papers at 2 a.m. in the downtown office here.

The sale is subject to ratification by stockholders of the Tropical Gables Corp., of which Herzfeld is president. This is expected to be a formality.

The denials came yesterday in quick succession, and in the wake of widely published stories quoting Talbott as saying in Madrid on Monday there were such plans.

President Eisenhower had an opportunity to give his views at a news conference this afternoon.

Not Storing Bombs In Spain
Until Talbott comes home about mid-month and gives his official version, the government apparently intends to ride along on the basis of:

1. The pronouncement of Secretary of State Dulles, concurred in by Secretary of Defense Wilson, that "we have no plans for storing atomic weapons in Spain" and that Darlene Byers of the beginners. Further prayer study will take place at future meetings and there will be awards.

The meeting next Monday evening at 7:15 p.m. will be held in the upstairs Sunday School room and there will be a guest speaker, Ruth McDannell, Methodist Conference rural worker, will speak to the Junior Fellowship members, Ruth Myers will be the junior leader.

Up to last night, no official word from Talbott to the Pentagon had arrived, and a spokesman said the matter apparently would be held in abeyance until the secretary's return.

DENY U. S. WILL STORE A-BOMBS IN SPAIN; DENIAL FROM TALBOTT

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two top administration officials have denied the United States plans to store atomic weapons in Spain, and Secretary of the Air Force Harold Talbott contends he didn't say it did.

The denials came yesterday in quick succession, and in the wake of widely published stories quoting Talbott as saying in Madrid on Monday there were such plans.

President Eisenhower had an opportunity to give his views at a news conference this afternoon.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
St. James Lutheran Church is Destroyed by Fire: St. James Lutheran Church was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning, with estimates of the loss ranging from $100,000 to $150,000.

It is believed that the fire may have started in the organ from a short circuit of some of the hundreds of electric wires used in the instrument. . . .

The fire was discovered about 5:30 o'clock by Floyd Bittle, York
St., who was on his way to work.
... A call for the Gettysburg Fire Department was put in by the Rev.
Earl J. Bowman about 5:45 o'clock.

About an hour after the fire was discovered the Rev. Mr. Bowman put in a call for the Biglerville Fire Company and the fire-fighters immediately responded. . . .

The firemen worked diligently.
Many of the firemen were chilled "to the bone," and hot coffee and sandwiches, prepared at the parsonage and by the family of William F.
Codori, were served to the fire fighters. . . .

Robert Bream, Miss A. Miller Married: Miss Edith Annetta Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Miller, East Middle St., and Robert Dale Bream, son of Mrs. Blanche Bream, Cashtown, were married Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at the St. James Lutheran Church parsonage. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Earl J. Bowman. . . .

Mr. Bream is manager of the Bream Store at Cashtown. The bride was a stenographer at the furniture factories here.

The newlyweds will reside in Cashtown.

St. James Folk Comfortable in Local Theatre: Saint James Lutheran congregation, made churchless by a disastrous fire, worshipped at the Majestic Theatre Sunday. Large crowds attended both the morning and evening services.

Use of the theatre was readily given without cost, except for actual expenses, by Manager George A.
Scharf. . . .

The Rev. Mr. Bowman announced a number of voluntary contributions toward the church building fund from members of the congregation and non-parishioners. The largest amount pledged by an organization of the church was $1,000 from the Men's Brotherhood Chorus, the youngest organization in the congregation. . . .

Bands Furnish Parade Music:
Masqueraded and costumed throngs of children and grown-ups frisked and frolicked in Gettysburg's annual Halloween parade Wednesday evening.

While the mummies paraded over the main streets to the strains of music played by the Boys' and Citizens' bands, hundreds of citizens lined the streets, cheering and throwing confetti.

At Biglerville Halloween celebrations removed the concrete sign post in Center Square, and disposed of it so completely that no trace of the heavy marker was found the following day.

Local Dancer Scores in Rio: Miss Elizabeth Stallsmith, who is in Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, fulfilling a long contract with one of the largest hotels and a vaudeville contract in the Copablanca Palace, is receiving the acclaim of dramatic critics in newspapers and magazines. . . .

"Betty Blair" (this is the stage name of Miss Stallsmith), has received splendid tributes for her dancing. . . .

Occupies New Home: Ray M. Hoffman and family moved Thursday from Chambersburg St. to their new home on Howard Ave.

Invite 600 to Y.W. Meeting: Invitations have been extended to more than 600 members of the Gettysburg and Adams County Young Women's Christian Association to attend the semi-annual membership meeting to be held at the Y building Friday evening, November 9, at 7:30 o'clock.

Following the membership meeting, a reception will be given Miss Anne MacFarlane, of Duluth, Minnesota, who recently became secretary of the Y.W.C.A. . . .

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

TO BE NEEDED

We were not put into this world just to stand around, hoping for personal pleasure and the kind of success that is wholly selfish. We could not hope for happiness under such a procedure anyway. Somebody must need us, and we must feel that we are needed.

Many a friend, many a worker, and many a loved one has been dismissed from our life because we decided that he or she was not needed. Not until a person has gone out of our immediate life does that one suddenly loom in our consciousness as important, greatly needed, and even essential!

There are material needs that can be gained. They can be bought.
But how rarely we discover a needed friend—one who fulfills the need for such in ourselves. We often boast that we need no one else to advise or help us out. But let that needed one disappear. Then it is realized how necessary that one was to us.

Individuals, communities, and even nations, often go to the aid of others simply because they are convinced that they are needed.
It is such a natural trait. If it were not an active one, this would be a far less happy world in which to live. To be needed is to be loved.

When in trouble to whom do we go for advice, counsel, and guidance? It's to the one whom we most need, and know that we need.
It's a compliment to be a needed person. He is usually a solid one, dependable, and with an extra supply of common sense. He is always "at home" in an understanding. Cool-headed and understanding.

We are not always called upon when we are most needed in a situation. Often people are invited to a job, or some important position, because their life record proves them to be a needed human product. We in America needed a Washington when we had him,
the same as England needed Winston Churchill during its neediest days. Let's want to be needed!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Things We Inherit."

ANCESTRY

When speaking of our ancestry, my mother's eyes would shine
And proudly she would tell us all:
"You're of the Tudor line."
But father with a smile would say:
"While bearing that in mind,
You keep your eyes on goals ahead;
not those that lie behind."

"You have a noble ancestry, but all are dead and gone.
'Tis you who have to prove your worth, not those who've journeyed on.
And back that Tudor line, 'tis sorry truth I state,
There may be some you can't approve, and even some you'd hate.
So try to be an ancestor, within the time allowed,
Of whom your children's children in the future can be proud."

Grid Upset Is Cause of Celebration: Gettysburg College students at Monday morning's chapel exercises requested a holiday from Dean Tilberg because of the sensational upset of the Bullets' victory over the Bucknell Bison on Saturday. When their request was denied, the students stood up, cheered and shouted and then left the chapel.

This started the celebrating all over again. They paraded through the streets of town; roamed through the high school and tried, in vain, to persuade the superintendent to postpone classes for the day; visited the academy and secured the release of the students there; delayed sessions at the seminary; waylaid a truckload of apples, as the driver drove through the marching students, and pelted schoolmates with the delicious fruit; stopped a local bakery truck and helped themselves to a few loaves of bread; kidnapped Head Coach Hen Bream, carried him to Center Square and insisted on hearing from the young mentor; brought out the college band and
"whooped it up," all morning. . . .

This is the first demonstration of its kind in six years, a revival of the old G-burg spirit. At one time during the morning's demonstration, more than 700 students participated in the parade.

In the evening a homecoming bonfire topped off the celebration.

SEE MOVE FOR DIPLOMATIC STALEMATE IN LAST RED NOTE

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department officials today described Russia's latest note on a German conference as fresh evidence that Moscow desires a kind of diplomatic stalemate at least for the time being.

There was no immediate comment by the department of the Russian response to a Western bid for a foreign ministers' conference on Germany and Austria. But privately, officials used such words as "evasive . . . a severe disappointment" in speaking of it.

The 18-page note, delivered yesterday, was a reply to the invitation which the United States, Britain and France issued Oct. 18 to the Russians to attend a conference on Germany and Austria at Lugano, Switzerland, on Nov. 9.

Going To Highest Levels
U.S. Ambassador Charles E.
Bohlen dispatched a summary to Washington. The full text of the document was expected overnight.
Officially the State Department said only the full text "will be studied at the highest levels"— presumably by Secretary of State Dulles and his advisers.

The gist of the note clearly appeared to be contained in a reassertion of these two points which the Soviets had insisted upon in a message to the Western governments in September:

Can't Force Red China

2. As a kind of second half of the big meeting, a conference of the foreign ministers of Russia and the three big Western powers, without Red China, to discuss the German question. The Russians contend that work on an Austrian peace treaty should go through normal diplomatic channels.

The general feeling at the State Department is that the Soviets know they cannot "ram Red China down our throats," as one authority expressed it. Therefore, the Kremlin probably realizes that in proposing a conference with Red China it is setting an impossible condition while giving the appearance of willingness to negotiate.

Bullet, Bucknell Frosh Clash Thursday Night In Benefit For Fire Company

Gettysburg College's unbeaten freshman football team faces its biggest obstacle here Thursday night at 8 o'clock when Bucknell's improving first-year squad will be met on the Gettysburg High School field.

Thursday's game is being sponsored by the Gettysburg Fire Co. and all proceeds of the game will be toward the apparatus fund of the company. Firemen will assist in selling tickets and programs, policing the field, and selling refreshments. Paul E. Anzenberger is the general chairman.

Two bands will furnish music. The Gettysburg College band will march from the college to the field at 7:30 and perform and furnish the music for the half-time performance and for its sensational baton-twirlers, Miss Bonnie Gibney. Biglerville High School's band will represent Bucknell for the contest. The flashy Canner band has offered its services free of charge and will furnish its own transportation here.

Coach Jim Lentz, who piloted last year's Bullet freshmen to an unbeaten season, is gunning for his second straight perfect year.

The Bullets trounced Franklin and Marshall 62-13 and followed with a 46-0 drubbing of Johns Hopkins.

Bucknell coached by Ben Kribbs, former Waynesboro High cage coach, and later of Clarion State Teachers College, has won one, tied two and tied another.

Visitors Improve

The Bullets played one of their poorest games in tying with F. and M. 0-0 but then rebounded to down Lehigh 28-20. They dropped a 36-6 decision to Wyoming Seminary and last week lost a hard-fought 20-6 verdict to the powerful Kiski Prep eleven.

Coach Kribbs has announced his probable starting lineup will include the following:

Ends, Bills Conlin, 155, and Paul Manning 170; tackles, John Rottelle, 195, and Ralph Riker, 195; guards, Edgar Kastner 170, and Martin Dippold, 160; center, Joe Nagy, 160; backs, Jim Stewart, 165; Franklin Stetson, 190; Bob Herschok, 165, and Ed Tessoro, 170.

Bullet Starters

The Bullet lineup will probably be the same as in previous games, including: Ends, Art Hendley, 180, and Bill Ward, 190; tackles, Eugene Lincoln, 200, and Gene Calcani, 210; guards, Glen Mayer, 187, and Jerry Harrell, 188; center, Larry Davies, 190; backs, Charley Heverly, 160; Dave Lichtenfeld, 165; Louis Natalie, 170, and Bob Lebo, 173.

Coach Lentz has used his entire squad in previous games and will probably do the same Thursday regardless of the score. The replacements include: Ends, Howard Lewis, 150; Jerry Gasser, 185; tackles, Jim Longanacre, 175, and Ned Cook, 208; guards, Jim Meunier, 160, and Charles Bell, 240; center, Tom Stahl, 160; backs, Vince Scolla, 150; Tom Hyland, 160; Doug Craver, 150; Paul Gallagher, 150, and Gene Costello, 168.

Admission will be $1 for adults and 50c for children. There will be no reserved seats. All Gettysburg College students will be admitted free of charge.

FORMER BALL PLAYER DIES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John Chapman, about 50, of Frackville, Pa., former major league baseball player, died yesterday at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital after an illness of several weeks.

Chapman played major league ball in the early 1920s with both the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Philadelphia Athletics. He was an outstanding athlete at Temple University and later played pro football with the Coalfield Big Greens.

He once operated a tavern near Connie Mack Stadium, home of Philadelphia's major league baseball teams, but moved to Frackville six years ago. A native of Centerville, Pa., Chapman in recent years has been a salesman for a liquor firm.

He is survived by his widow, two daughters and two brothers.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

COLLEGE GRID HEADS AGREE ABUSES EXIST; MOORE SPEAKS

NEW YORK (AP)—College football officials agree today for the most part that there are certain abuses in the gridiron sport but none went so far as the NCAA president who would abolish the game "unless it is cleansed of hypocrisy, skulduggery and cheating."

Dr. A. B. Moore, president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and faculty chairman of athletics at Alabama, said the blame for current evils in the sport is shared by alumni, parents of athletes, coaches and college officials. He made the charge in a speech at Talladega, Ala.

Matty Bell, veteran Southern Methodist University athletic director, agreed that there are some evils in some places in college football.

Always Will Be Abuses

"And we should have the courage to admit it, and make every effort to eliminate it," he said.

"But I don't know of any violations now in the Southwest Conference. In my 23 years in the conference I've never known of less suspicion and criticism among the schools."

Moore, who also is dean of the Graduate School at Alabama, said he has seen "many of the benefits from intercollegiate athletics" and he was advocating "operating on the patient and not killing him."

"I expect there always will be some abuses in intercollegiate athletics because of its highly competitive nature," said Ike Armstrong, Minnesota's athletic director. "Colleges and universities should promote only the type of intercollegiate programs that administrators, faculties and governing boards feel to be honest, constructive and worthwhile."

Would Rather Go On

"The alumni," Moore also said, "would rather go on cheating than expose others who are cheating. You may read that the NCAA has caught 10 or 12 schools but not nearly enough is being done."

"We are 100 per cent behind any movement that will help athletics," commented Ed Krause, Notre Dame's athletic director.

From Dr. J. Hills Miller, president of the University of Florida and president of the Southeastern Conference, came this reaction:

Miller Surprised

"I suspect if you looked far enough you would find some of that in certain quarters. But I am a little surprised to hear Dr. Moore say that. He is a fine, responsible person and must have some basis for his position."

Larry Moore, Kansas State athletic director, said Moore "is in a position to know what he is talking about" in cleaning up football but he differs with the NCAA head in this respect:

"I don't blame the alumni parents of boys. The great majority of the alumni want the highest ideals to prevail. But too often, a disproportionate influence by a very few (usually self-appointed) is condoned."

Al Andrews And Davey On TV Tonight

DETROIT (AP)—Newcomer Al Andrews gets his crack at the gold and glory trunion across the National television cable tonight when he meets Chuck Davey in Olympia Stadium.

The 10-rounder, starting at 10 p.m., will be televised around the country. It also will be broadcast.

Andrews, former 5th Army champion from Superior, Wis., earned this shot at the big time, and big money, by outpointing Davey in a one-sided 10-rounder in Saginaw, Mich., Sept. 14. He floored Davey for an eight-count in winning unanimously.

The winner of tonight's bout will meet Billy Graham, high-ranking New York welter contender, here Dec. 2.

LITTLE LEAGUE FOE RESIGNS

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Robert A. Young, who recently voted against continuing the Little League World Series, resigned today as regional director and member of the Little League's national board.

Young, whose territory included 10 Midwestern states and four Canadian provinces, said he could not reconcile the policy governing the national tournament with that involving field leadership.

He said he believed the organization "has a moral obligation to the youngsters and adults involved to initiate at this time abolition of the World Series and gradual settling to regional and state levels as the topmost competitive steps."

The national board voted Oct. 23 to hold the World Series again in 1954. The Little League is a baseball organization for boys 8 through 12 years old.

GHs-WILDCATS
IN 27TH GAME
HERE FRIDAY

When the Gettysburg High School Warriors bring their football season to a conclusion here Friday evening against Mechanicsburg it will mark the 27th meeting between the schools in a series which began in 1919.

The Wildcats, who have dropped one game this season while winning six and tying another, have the biggest lead in the series of any of the present day schools on the Warrior schedule. Mechanicsburg has won 16 to six for Gettysburg. Four games ended in deadlocks.

With the exception of the 13-0 victory gained by the Warriors when they were unbeaten in 1951, Mechanicsburg has been victorious in all other games played since 1939.

Series Score

Gettysburg's six victories in the series were as follows: 1919, 34-0; 1929, 19-7; 1931, 13-0; 1935, 12-0; 1938, 7-0, and 1951, 13-0. The games resulted in 1928, 0-0; 1930, 0-0; 1933, 7-7, and 1939, 6-6.

Wildcat triumphs were: 1932, 25-6; 1934, 7-0; 1936, 7-6; 1937, 26-0; 1940, 6-0; 1941, 20-0; 1942, 26-13; 1943, 42-6; 1944, 13-6; 1945, 32-13; 1946, 39-12; 1947, 33-13; 1948, 6-0; 1949, 13-0; 1950, 20-0, and 1952, 6-0.

Most local fans felt that if the squad turns in as fine an all-around performance as displayed last week against Hershey the locals have an excellent chance for victory.

A win for the Warriors would give them the second best record since 1933 when the team won five, lost but one, and tied three. The 1951 champions had an 8-0-1 record.

EDDIE JOOST SUCCEEDS DYKES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Shortstop Eddie Joost today was named field manager of the Philadelphia Athletics succeeding Jimmy Dykes.

Roy Mack, club vice president, announced that Dykes, who has a year to go under his contract, has been asked to remain with the club in an advisory capacity.

Mack said that the 37-year-old Joost, Dykes and Vice President Earl Mack are expected to make up an advisory group to make all decisions on player trades.

He also announced that Bernie Guest has been named the new director of the Philadelphia farm system.

This was the second major move affecting the A's within eight days.

The club lost its general manager, Art Ehlers, who took a similar post with the Baltimore Orioles.

It is assumed that Dykes, Joost and Earl Mack will take over the general manager's duties though this was not immediately disclosed.

Ehlers had also handled the farm club chores.

BASEBALL RULES GROUP REVIVES SACRIFICE FLY

NEW YORK (AP)—The sacrifice fly, which should help long ball hitters improve their batting averages, will be back in the baseball rule book in 1954.

Except for 1939 it's been missing for 22 seasons.

The revived rule says that any fly ball which permits a runner to score after the catch will not count as a time at bat against the hitter.

Favors Power Hitters

Some experts figure this can add as much as seven to 10 points to the batting averages of power hitters.

The committee, meeting for the first time in more than two years, tightened a number of other rules and wrote a new one requiring players to bring their gloves to the dugout at the end of each inning.

Among the changes were:

Official recognition of suspended games—games halted by curfew or light failure. These games may be completed at a later date. Several leagues already have such rules although the national committee never before had recognized them.

"Tag Up"

Addition of a footnote to the rule on "tagging up" after a fly. The note says the base runner must start from a standing position in contact with the bag. Some players, including Bob Thompson and Al Dark of the New York Giants, had been taking a running start from short left field.

Insertion of the word "fair" in rule 7.08F, which says a runner is out if hit by a batted ball.

Removal of the mandatory 90-day suspension against a manager who orders his team off the field and forfeits a game. Dixie Walker did this several years ago while managing Atlanta. The punishment now will be up to the league president.

Rule Revision

Revision of the rules on a live ball touched by "equipment detached from its proper position."

The old rules automatically gave a batsman three bases on a batted ball and a runner two bases on a live thrown ball. The change limits the rules so that they will apply only if the action is intentional and the ball is in fair territory.

Ruled it unsportsmanlike conduct for a fielder to take a position in the line of vision of the batter and purposely attempt to distract the batter. This was an old trick of Eddie Stanky, now manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Mountaineer Tackle Is Lineman Of Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Bruce Bosley, sophomore tackle at West Virginia, was selected as the Associated Press lineman of the week.

Bosley's sterling play against Penn State Saturday kept the Mountaineers undefeated and in line for a bowl bid.

West Virginia won 20-19 and Bosley played a vital part in the play that accounted for what proved to be the winning touchdown. He and Tommy Allman broke through to block a State punt on the State 23. Bosley fell on the ball in the end zone for the score.

Altogether, the 212-pound Bosley was a pain in the neck to the Nittany Lions. He played the full 60 minutes and was in the State backfield all afternoon breaking up plays.

NEW BACKFIELD FOR DICKINSON AGAINST G-BURG

CARLISLE, Pa.—The new backfield combination that sparked Dickinson to an upset victory over Drexel last week will carry the hopes of the Red Devils into their game Saturday at Gettysburg with the once-defeated Bullets.

Coach A. C. Ransom said that Gordon Haney, senior of all work, who scored the two touchdowns against Drexel in his first game at quarterback, will direct the team again. The converted guard and halfback gets the call, Ransom said, because of his greater skill in exploiting the split-T option plays.

Three sophomores fill out the revamped backfield. Albert Barilar, who started the season at quarterback, and Charles Garwood will be the halfbacks and Joseph Minkevitch at fullback.

The 210-pound Minkevitch is Dickinson's best line. A converted tackle, he developed slowly at fullback but suddenly ran with new effectiveness last week against Drexel. One of his many contributions in that victory was a 44-yard burst over tackle that set up a touchdown.

Red Devils Light

Gettysburg will have a red advantage in the line. The Red Devils forwards will be Don Allegretto, 170, and Dave Orbrook, 190, ends; Andy Cominsky, 190, and Paul Tarr, 193, tackles; James Nellis, 170, and Joe Kunda, 185, guards and Don Bush, 175, center.

This 42nd game between Central Pennsylvania rivals who date their grid series to 1892 may be the last between them for an indefinite time. No scheduling arrangements have been made beyond this year. The Bullets holds 29 victories and have not lost to the Red Devils since 1937. Dickinson has 11 victories and one game ended in a tie.

Saturday's rivals have had a common foe this season. In its first start of the season Dickinson lost to Western Maryland, 0-14. The next week Gettysburg thumped Western Maryland, 46-7.

West Forces East Teams To Change Court Style

(This is the third of four stories covering Joe Lapchick's highlights in 40 years of basketball. Now coach of the New York Knickerbockers, he long has been a dominating figure in the game.)

By JOE LAPCHICK
(Written Especially for AP Newsfeatures)

It was around 1936 that the game began to change. But first let me tell of the last few years of the Original Celtics who never did get a chance to play the game as we know it today.

Comparing the Celtics with today's Minneapolis Lakers would be putting one type against another. The Celtics played possession ball and the Lakers stressed height and speed. If the Celtics had to run they'd run.

living daughter of Hugh Paxton Bigham, one of the soldiers who stood guard at Lincoln's door at the White House on his visit here, had written for him recollections of her father's account of the events here the night of November 18, 1863.

Miss Bigham said her father handed Mr. Lincoln a telegram that evening and, after reading it, the President said to Sgt. Bigham: "This telegram is from home. Little Tadd has been ill and I was afraid I couldn't come but he's better now." Bigham said it "seemed to do the President good" to talk to some one. A short time later Lincoln asked Sgt. Bigham to take him to Secretary Seward's quarters in the Harper home nearby on the square.

Crowded Square
There were bands in the square and it was full of people. Mrs. Jennie Bigham Gordon, of Waynesboro, wrote. Lincoln told her father: "Ser-geant, you clear the way and I'll hold onto your coat tails." By that means he reached the White House in safety.

Sgt. Bigham's brother, Rush, was on guard at the first floor door to the White house, Mrs. Bigham recalled. The following committee on historical markers was named: Homer Young, Miss McMillan, Charles S. Diller, Hugh McIlhenny and C. L. Eicholtz. A committee to investigate neglected cemeteries and discover what steps can be taken to preserve them with or without county funds was named as follows: J. M. Sheads, Harry T. Stauffer and George M. JOHN HOFFMAN NEW BUGRESS FOR DILLSBURG

A total of 572 Dillsburg citizens voted nine Republicans and four Democrats into office in Tuesday's general election.

Victor by 137 votes over his closest competitor despite the Republican sentiment was Democratic candidate for burgess, John O. Hoffman. His 266 votes topped the 129 write-in votes for candidate Robert Baker and the 81 for Boyd B. Gerber.

S. E. Wagner, Republican, was re-elected borough assessor for the next four years over Robert L. Grimm by 323 votes to 245.

Ralph A. Bentz, elected to the post of school director, tallied the highest number of votes in the election to defeat Democrat Lawrence A. Evans, 377 to 187.

Three Republican Councilmen
Dillsburg voters were divided in selections for Justice of the Peace. Roy Coulson, Republican, and Marshall E. Smith, Democrat, were victorious. Charles B. Rider, Republican, defeated William A. Fishel, Democrat, 288 to 263 for the auditor's post.

Democrat Richard L. Knaub will assume the position as judge of elections next year. Republican John F. Davis, 3rd, was elected inspector of elections.

Republican Samuel W. McCreary gained the tax collector's office by a comfortable margin over his Democratic opponent, William W. Wierman.

Baird D. Knaub was the only Democrat elected to fill one of four councilmanic posts. Republican borough council winners were Ray K. Grove, Paul S. Mowery, and Eugene S. Cromer.

Elections officials were George Strickler and Helen Harter, clerks; Earl Krall and W. J. Kemmel, overseers; Eloise Kistler and Dale Fissel, inspectors, and John F. Davis 3rd, judge.

Blacktop Tennis Courts
Ernest H. Simpson, chairman of the tennis court committee, reported that final phases of construction to a 102 x 120 foot double championship tennis court at Recreation Field—a major project of the 1953 Exchange Club—are nearing completion.

Tuesday, a labor crew placed 100 tons of black top and a special sealing mixture atop a crushed stone base on the court as the committee strove to complete the project before the start of cold weather. Drainage grading will be started in the near future, Simpson said, and backstops will be erected within the next week.

When completed at a cost of $2,000, the tennis courts will be formally dedicated next spring and a racquet school under the direction of Ira Kerr, recreation director, initiated.

Two Republicans Elected To Superior Court; Big Upset In Philadelphia Turns Tide

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A smashing upset in Philadelphia that deviated from the national trend proved the key block as the Republicans swept to victory in Pennsylvania today.

The GOP vote in Philadelphia helped carry into office the two Republican candidates for the State Superior Court—Judge J. Colvin Wright of Bedford County and Judge Harold L. Ervin of Delaware County.

The Democrats gained some solace in local contests—electing mayors to unprecedented third terms in Pittsburgh and Scranton—but the big news from a GOP standpoint was the Philadelphia story.

Republican leaders called the Philadelphia vote a definite roadblock in the path of the resurgent Democrat organization here. By way of sharp contrast to yesterday's results, the Democrats elected a mayor in 1951 after more than a half century of Republican rule and in last year's general election, Adlai Stevenson carried the city over Dwight D. Eisenhower by 161,000.

Upset Prediction
The Philadelphia result was all the more startling because of Democratic pre-election predictions the party would carry the city by as much as 100,000. The Republican city leaders, on the other hand, had remained markedly silent.

In the Superior Court race Wright and Ervin led almost from the start of the vote count over their Democratic opponents—Judge Ingraham Hook of Greene County and Judge W. C. Sheely of Adams County.

With 7,097 precincts of the state's 8,532 accounted for, the vote was: Wright 1,227,501; Ervin 1,180,180; Hook 1,047,626; and Sheely 1,054,149.

In Philadelphia, Wright ran up a 23,000 plurality over his closest Democratic rival.

In the only other issue of statewide interest, Pennsylvania voters soundly defeated a move to authorize a constitutional convention that would rewrite the state's 79-year-old code.

Fine Endorsed Plan
The convention plan had the backing of several non-partisan groups and the state Democratic organization.

The state GOP adopted a "hands off" attitude, but Gov. John S. Fine officially endorsed the proposal. It was opposed by the State Grange, the State Chamber of Commerce and other groups. Official Democratic support was evidenced by the fact the proposal was carried only strongly in such heavily Democratic counties as Erie and Lackawanna.

Both Republicans and Democrats looked to yesterday's balloting for some indication of which way the wind might blow in next year's gubernatorial campaign. The result in Philadelphia was taken as a blow to the chances of Dist. Atty. Richardson Dilworth in the battle for the Democratic nomination. Mayor David L. Lawrence, who won re-election in Pittsburgh, apparently gained political stature.

GOP Rift Stands
On the Republican side, there were no outward signs in the voting of the pre-election squabble between G. Mason Owlett, former GOP national committee chairman, and U. S. Sen. James H. Duff. Ten days before the election, Owlett declared Duff had little chance of winning the GOP gubernatorial nomination next year because he lacks a statewide organization. Duff replied Owlett was in the habit of opening his mouth "and then walking off and leaving it."

The Democratic leadership hoped the outbreak would affect the Republicans' chance in yesterday's balloting. It apparently had little if any effect.

The extent of yesterday's voting was a surprise. One of the reasons undoubtedly was the balmy weather that prevailed throughout the state during the 13 hours the polls were open. Unexpected interest in local contests undoubtedly was a factor, also.

Good Pittsburgh Vote
Lawrence's battle to defeat his Republican opponent, Leonard P. Kane, served to bring out the voters in the Steel City. In Philadelphia, interest was aroused by judicial contests and fights for two of the city's so-called "row offices"—register of wills and city control magistrates. The Democrats picked up their minimum of four magistrates. Three other judicial candidates were backed by both parties.

GOP DEFEATED FOR GOVERNOR IN NEW JERSEY

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—New Jersey Democrats struck a surprise double blow at President Eisenhower's administration yesterday, winning the governorship and a 6th Dist. Congressional seat for the first time in years.

Unofficial returns showed Democrat Robert B. Meyner, a county lawyer, had defeated Republican Paul L. Troast, a contractor, for the governorship by about 160,000 votes. He will be the first Democratic governor in 10 years.

In a close race Democrat Harrison A. Williams Jr. beat Republican George F. Hetfield by a scant 2,000 votes in the state's 6th Congressional District where a Republican won in 1952 by 54,000 votes.

The GOP had held the district since it was formed in 1932. It was the second congressional upset within a month for the Republicans, who lost a Wisconsin seat last month.

GOP "In Trouble"
Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said the New Jersey results combined with Democratic victories in New York City's mayoral race and Virginia's gubernatorial election showed "there's no question about it—as of today we are in trouble politically."

With 3,809 of the state's 3,964 election districts reported, Meyner received 926,113 votes or 54 percent of the total vote reported.

Troast, chairman of the New Jersey Turnpike Authority, received 766,666, or 44 percent.

Two Independents and a Socialist-Labor candidate picked up only splinter percentages.

In the 6th District congressional race, Williams received an unofficial total of 68,793 to 66,796 for Hetfield.

The Meyner victory compared with a 350,000 plurality given to President Eisenhower last year and a 75,860-vote triumph by Republican Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll in the 1949 election. Driscoll refused to seek a third term.

Cut GOP Control
The election of Williams pared GOP control of the House to 218 Republicans over 215 Democrats.

The New Jersey Legislature remained firmly in control of the Republicans, who won 17 of the Senate's 21 seats and 40 of the 60 Assembly posts. The Senate lineup remained the same as this year, but the Democrats picked up three seats in the election, which also brought a referendum vote to legalize bingo.

In normally strong Republican counties of Bergen and Essex, GOP candidates for the Senate and Assembly were elected comfortably while Troast lost Essex and barely won Bergen.

Meyner's victory came at the end of a six-month campaign in which he rose from virtual political obscurity. He led a wing of Democrats opposed to a return to power of backers of former party boss Frank Hague.

Crime And Corruption
During the campaign Troast called Meyner the hand-picked candidate of Mayor John V. Kenny of Jersey City who ousted Hague in 1949. Meyner replied he was unbossed and charged in return that Troast represented a party that had permitted the underworld to flourish in New Jersey.

Both sides brought national figures into the state to speak. Many politicians viewed it as a battleground for the Eisenhower administration though the campaign principally was fought on the issue of crime and corruption.

A turning point in the campaign came with the revelation that Troast as head of his construction firm wrote a letter in 1951 to New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey asking executive clemency for convicted labor extortionist Joey Fay.

Troast defended the letter as an "act of mercy."

Toward the close of the campaign Hague supporters, led by his nephew, Frank Hague Eggers, announced they would vote for Troast. Yet Meyner won Hudson County by 70,000 votes, a probable death notice to the crumpled Hague machine.

Williams, a 35-year-old lawyer, campaigned in the highly industrialized district with the slogan that voters had a choice between liberalism, represented by himself, and conservatism.

Hetfield said the "foremost issue in the campaign" was the election of an Eisenhower supporter such as himself.

Perryopolis Holds Its 1st Elections

PERRYOPOLIS, Pa. (AP)—This newly-formed Southwestern Pennsylvania borough that became heir to 1½ million dollars a few years ago has brand new officials today—one Republican and 11 Democrats. They're the first ever elected by the community.

The little town, chartered as a borough last year, held its first election yesterday and named mortician Russell Blair, a Republican, burgess. He won by 45 votes over the Democratic candidate, Dr. William Vernon. The borough elected seven councilmen, three school directors and a tax collector—all Democrats.

Perryopolis inherited the money from Mrs. Mary Fuller Prazier, a native daughter. She willed the fortune for civic improvements.

Democratic Landslide Puts Wagner In As New York Mayor

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert F. Wagner Jr. was elected mayor of New York yesterday in a Democratic landslide that sent ecstasy through the New Deal-Fair Deal wing of the party.

His victory had been widely forecast. But the size of it and the New Deal-Fair Deal stamp he bore set his backers to dreaming of capturing the state next year and nominating their type of presidential candidate in the 1956 Democratic convention.

Wagner won a four-year term by a plurality of 360,078 and nipped the political careers of his two major opponents, Republican Harold Riegelman and Liberal party candidate Rudolph Halley.

Negro Elected
Son of the late U. S. Sen. Robert F. Wagner of New York, the mayor-elect carried four of the city's five boroughs with ease. In Queens, where GOP strength is greatest, he fought Riegelman to a virtual standoff.

Final returns from the city's 4,217 election districts gave Wagner 1,021,488 votes to 661,410 for Riegelman and 468,392 for Halley. A fourth candidate, Clifford T. McAvoy of the dying left-wing American Labor party, polled only 54,372 votes.

Among those elected on Wagner's ticket was Hulan E. Jack, who succeeds him as Manhattan borough president and becomes the first Negro ever to hold so high an office in New York's history.

"Sure my father helped me get started in politics and his name still helps," conceded Wagner, who

Jack's regular opponents also were Negroes.

Light Turnout
A total of 2,205,662 persons out of 2,396,099 registered went to the polls.

Wagner drew 46.3 percent of the mayoral vote, Riegelman 30.0, Halley 21.2 and McAvoy 2.5.

It was the lightest turnout since 1945, but Wagner's plurality was the greatest since William O'Dwyer's 693,754 in the same year.

Wagner succeeds Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri Jan. 1 in the $40,000-a-year mayoralty—the second biggest political job in the nation. Impellitteri, elected as an Independent in 1950 after O'Dwyer resigned to become ambassador to Mexico, lost to Wagner 2-1 in the Democratic primary last Sept. 15.

In Politics 12 Years
Impellitteri tried to run as an Independent after his primary defeat, but a court ruled his nominating petition did not have enough valid signatures.

Virtually unknown to the nation at large except through his father, young Wagner will step up from his present $25,000-a-year post as Manhattan borough president. He has been in politics since 1941 when he went to the state Assembly from the same Yorkville district that sent his father there 33 years earlier.

"Sure my father helped me get started in politics and his name still helps," conceded Wagner, who

1,200 FIGHTING FOREST FIRES

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—Weary crews fought desperately today to halt raging forest fires sweeping over hundreds of acres in Blair and Huntingdon counties.

An estimated 1,200 volunteers are battling at least eight separate blazes in Blair County alone. The fires broke out last Friday in three areas surrounding Altoona.

State police last night closed three roads leading into the areas. Several farm buildings and homes were endangered by the wind-whipped flames.

One report said the fires are the worst in the history of the county.

More than 700 acres are burning near Mount Union in Huntingdon county. Firefighters reported twice yesterday they had the blaze under control. But it cropped up again from smoldering embers. This fire has been raging since Saturday.

The ferret is one of the few mammals which can be infected with human influenza.

It is estimated that only one in nine oil wells drilled in unproved territory produces any oil.

at 44 is one of the youngest mayors in recent New York history.

His father authored the Wagner Labor Relations Act in 1935 as a right hand man to President Franklin D. Roosevelt in the early days of the New Deal. The elder Wagner died last spring.

Three Czech Youths Who Shot Way Through Red Police Seek Asylum In West; One Wounded

BERLIN (AP)—Three Czech youths who shot their way out of Red police nets across the Soviet Zone of Germany waited hopefully for word today the West would grant them asylum. One of them is in serious condition from East German police bullets.

The three told police authorities here a hair-raising tale of four weeks as the objects of a vast manhunt, and of gun-blazing clashes with Red police. They left two companions behind in the trek—one believed captured and the other badly wounded by machinegun fire and either dead or taken prisoner.

The youths, who left their Communist-ruled homeland Oct. 3, said they opened fire at a police patrol that stopped them at a small railway station near Luckau, about 50 miles south of Berlin. Four policemen were killed and the rest fled.

Price On Their Heads
The Communist press last week reported the shooting of the four policemen and announced rewards of 1,000 marks each ($240) had been placed on the heads of the three as hundreds of police searched for them through the suburbs of East Berlin. The Reds claimed the youths were part of a "Fascist underground."

The three who escaped are Czar Maczin, 22, and his brother, Josef, 20, who were described as sons of a Czech general executed by the Nazis in 1942, and Milan Baumer, 21, who had been a student at the Prague Military Academy.

Baumer was still in serious condition in the hospital after an operation for removal of bullets received in another scrape with East Zone police.

The three said they left Prague Oct. 3 after Red authorities arbitrarily refused to let them study at the Czech capital's technical academy.

There's one hitch, though. The promotion was made by the acting governor of New Mexico and therefore applies only in the state.

The petition, to remain in force "until otherwise ordered," was signed by Beatrice B. Roach, acting governor, and Charles G. Sage, adjutant general. No reason was given for the "promotion."

Mettee said he does not plan to move to New Mexico.

BYRD-BACKED DEMOCRAT IS WINNER IN VA.

By JOHN F. DAFFRON

RICHMOND, Va. (P)—Virginia stuck by its custom and named another Democratic governor in a general election yesterday that found the political organization of Sen. Harry F. Byrd well able to handle its most serious Republican challenge.

Thomas B. Stanley, 63, a furniture manufacturer and former congressman who campaigned largely on the organization record, defeated Ted Dalton, 52, a state Senator and GOP national commit-tee man.

But in losing to Stanley by a vote of 219,653 to 175,505 on the basis of nearly complete returns from the state's 1,815 polling places, Dalton ran up the best vote and the biggest percentage ever scored by a Republican in a Virginia race for governor.

Got 44 Pct. Of Vote

Dalton, given a boost by the Eisenhower victory of last year, the election of three Republican congressmen and the disenchantment of some Democrats who put part of the blame for last year on Byrd, got a shade better than 44 per cent of the vote to Stanley's 55-plus. Independent Howard Carville, a third candidate with .07 of the vote, was no factor.

The best previous effort of the Republicans was 37 per cent in the election for governor in 1929—a year, as was this one, following a Virginia vote for a Republican president.

Stanley takes over from Gov. John S. Battle on Jan. 20. Virginia governors, elected for four-year terms, may not succeed themselves in office.

Hanlon, 27, who had just moved to nearby Bethel Township, three weeks ago from Philadelphia.

Mrs. Hanlon was loading a bucket of water into her car when it started to careen wildly down the incline. The door swung shut on her pinning her to the car. She died of internal injuries.

Mrs. Katherine Stover, a sister-in-law, said Mrs. Hanlon had come to her home to obtain the water after the well on the Hanlon property had gone dry.
